

James Boyle
Managing Director,
Restaurant Associates

James joined Compass in 2006 from Sodexo Prestige, where he was a Regional Director responsible for a number of visitor attractions and venues. Prior to this, he progressed through operational management roles at Sodexo and Gardner Merchant.

James has worked for Restaurant Associates throughout his career at Compass and has held a number of senior positions, most recently Business Excellence & Operations Director. In this role, he oversaw a portfolio of key client contracts and was also responsible for marketing, innovation, efficiency and corporate responsibility across the Restaurant Associates business.

James joined the UK & Ireland executive team in 2014, bringing a wealth of operational experience to his role as Managing Director, Restaurant Associates.

A keen traveller, James lives in London and enjoys its vibrant and constantly evolving culinary scene.
