

Louise Pilkington

Louise joined Compass Group UK & Ireland in March 2015, taking up a newly created role as Consumer Marketing Director. In this role Louise is responsible for Insight and Innovation, leading the development of new consumer insight led concepts which deliver strong commercial results.

Prior to joining Compass, Louise had a long term consulting role as Global Innovation Projects Director at Costa, where she was responsible for food, beverage and store format innovation. Louise has also held Senior Brand Development and Marketing roles at Moët Hennessy, Diageo and P&G, both locally and globally.

An Aston University alumni with a BSc in Business (Marketing and Accounting), Louise is married to Neil and lives in Beaconsfield with their twins, Stan & Evie and two maine coons (large American cats) Bubble & Squeak. She loves to travel, run and eat, equally passionate about cooking and eating out, and likes cake a little too much.
