

Oliver Cock
Managing Director,
Commercial

Oliver joined the Compass Group UK & Ireland business In May 2011, as Managing Director for Commercial.

Oliver joined Compass Group PLC in 2009 as Group Procurement Director, responsible for establishing and delivering the Group's functional procurement agenda. Since joining he has overseen the development of a new approach to procurement at Group and country level, and driven the development of strategies for Compass' key areas of global expenditure.

Prior to joining Compass, Oliver spent 11 years with Diageo PLC, initially managing global categories, managing the procurement operations in North and South America, and latterly in Europe and Africa. He was also responsible for innovation procurement globally. Previous to this, he held senior roles with Deloitte and the NHS.

Oliver lives in Berkshire with his wife Karen and their two daughters, Ella and Georgia. He is a keen sportsman and lifelong supporter of Southampton FC.

